

Educational Foundation Awards 20 Grants

The Harrisonburg Educational Foundation on Tuesday announced awarding 20 grants worth more than $17,000 to teachers.

Each of the division's six schools is represented among the recipients.

At the high school, grants went to Walt Williamson, Liz Gillenwater and Patricia Kelley.

Recipients at Thomas Harrison Middle School were Amy Chappell, Daniel Miller, Ron Ornstein and Lori Lineweaver. Anne Loso and Jackie Schmidt received a joint grant.

At Keister Elementary School, the six recipients were Cathy Burns, Mary Ellen Dofflemyer, Barbara Cavanaugh, Julie Slykhuis, Kathy Marchal, and Anne Kendrick.

The foundation awarded one grant at Spotswood Elementary School to Amy Henderson.

At Stone Spring Elementary School, the foundation awarded grants to three teachers. They were Pam Mason, Marta Armstrong and Terri Gehman.

At Waterman Elementary School, Cathy Shirley and Jackie Dinsmore received a joint grant. Kathy Shelenberger was the other recipient at Waterman.

The Harrisonburg Education Foundation offers up to $1,000 in grant funding per program.

The foundation is a nonprofit organization governed by a board of representatives of business, higher education, industry, public schools, and community organizations.

The foundation receives its money through fund raising and community donations.
